
Prof. Dr. Patric Alexander Cross

CV

Year	Task
1991-1994	Studied classical archaeology, provincial Roman archeology and ancient history at the Albert Ludwig University in Freiburg im Breisgau
1994–1995	Study-related stay abroad in Athens
1995-1999	Studied classical archaeology, ancient history and archeology of the Roman provinces at the University of Cologne
1999	Magister Artium at the University of Cologne (Master's thesis: "Imperial-era sanctuaries in the northern Syrian limestone massif")
2000-2004	Doctoral studies at the University of Cologne (title of the dissertation: "The grave reliefs from the Bosporan Empire")
2004-2005	Research assistant in the research project "'Diplomatic gifts' as a hermeneutic problem in acculturation research: The influence of the Greeks on the Scythians of the grassy steppe" at the Archaeological Institute of the Free University of Berlin (project leader Dr. Martin Langner; funded by the DFG)
2005-2010	Research assistant at the Institute for Archaeological Sciences at the Ruhr University Bochum (Classical Archaeology)
2010-2018	Academic Council at the Institute of Archaeological Sciences at the Ruhr University Bochum (Classical Archaeology)
2016-2018	DAAD long-term lectureship in archeology at the University of Jordan / Amman (JOR), Faculty for Archeology and Tourism, Department of Cultural Resources Management & Conservation (leave of absence at the Ruhr University Bochum)
2018	Habilitation at the Ruhr University Bochum (title of the habilitation thesis: "The visible difference. Facets of urban difference in Roman Northern Italy")
since September 1, 2018	W2 Professorship for Urban Archeology at the Christian Albrechts University
